The Nutrition Society Congress 2024

Accelerating your research impact

NEW: The Nutrition Society Congress 2024

We are excited to announce our new Congress format, providing more opportunities to engage you with nutrition professionals than ever before!

Join us for the Nutrition Society Congress, as we kick off the inaugural event in Belfast, 2-5 July 2024, at the beautiful and historic Assembly Buildings Conference Centre.

Unique to the Congress is that your organisation will be embedded within the main conference programme, with greater exposure and engagement opportunities than ever before. The programme will have two streams, one chosen by The Nutrition Society Science Committee and one of exciting symposia delivered by you, the partner and commercial organisations. You also have the chance to be at the heart of the networking, with an exhibition stand in the refreshment hub.

The Society's conferences bring world-leading experts from the field of nutritional science together to present the latest research to a global audience of all disciplines within the field, including academics, students, HCPs, industry, freelancers and policy leaders. With over 400 delegates anticipated, this conference is a great chance to accelerate your research impact and reach!

Congress Theme:

Nutrition Science in 2024: new data-focused approaches and challenges

The discipline of nutrition science is diverse in nature – encompassing the study of human health from a molecular to a public health level, and from an ingredient or nutrient level to positioning as part of a (sustainable) global food system. Recognising this diversity, the data used to underpin and inform nutrition science are complex, stemming from a variety of sources. The aim of this conference is to provide an overview of the diversity of the data collected and used within the field of nutrition science and how analysis of this data has and can be used to progress the discipline.
