Questions & Answers for Academics

How do I sign up for students?

It is very easy, you just need one designated member of staff per university, who will fill in the simple application and membership will be in touch in October 2023.

Which and how many students can I include?

Any nutrition course BSc undergraduate students can be signed up, there is no limit on numbers.

How do you define nutrition students?

Nutrition students will be defined as those studying undergraduate nutrition degrees with most modules in every year being nutrition based and typically having 'nutrition' in their title, e.g., BSc Nutrition, BSc Human Nutrition, BSc Nutrition and Health. This will not include Biological Sciences, Food Science, Physiology, or Sports Science related degrees for example.

Should I include students on courses with nutrition modules?

Not at the moment, as defined above, the current pilot is for nutrition courses only.

How much of my time will this take up?

It will only take a few minutes to sign up. You just need to share the details with your students and encourage them to sign up.

What happens next?

Once you have completed the sign-up form, the membership team will be back in touch very soon, with details of how your students can join.

Once I hear from the membership team with instructions of what to do, how long have the students got to sign up?

The students can join at any point they wish, but the sooner they join, the sooner they can start using the great benefits.

What if I have questions about this?
