The Nutrition Society
Monthly Activity Roundup
March 2022

INTERNATIONAL COLLABORATIONS

Pakistan Nutrition & Dietetic Society (PNDS).
The Society participated in the Pakistan Nutrition and Dietetics Society’s 2nd International Conference in Karachi 10-13 March. Professor Nicola Lowe and Professor Basma Ellahi presented, and the Society hosted 4 workshops on the Research Consortium for school health and career development. Focus groups were also held with 300 delegates to assist the Nutrition Society Training Academy (NSTA) in developing its offerings. Finally, an MOU between Pakistan and the Society was signed.

New Low and Middle Income Countries (LMICs) collaboration.
The Society’s CEO and the President of IUNS, attended a meeting on 11 March in Pakistan to discuss the creation of a new Union of Nutrition and Dietetic Societies from LMICs. It was agreed in principle to take the work forward under the umbrella of the IUNS.

EXTERNAL PARTNERSHIPS

The ‘N5’.
The ‘N5’ (an ongoing collaboration between the British Nutrition Foundation (BNF), the British Dietetic Association (BDA), the Association for Nutrition (AfN), the Institute of Food Science and Technology (IFST) and The Nutrition Society) CEOs met on 3 March to review their respective strategies and programmes, looking for synergies and mutual opportunities.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutritionsociety.org

STEM for BRITAIN.
STEM for Britain 2022 took place on 7 March in the House of Commons.
Professor Julie Lovegrove represented the Society and jointly presented the Gold, Silver and Bronze awards for chemistry. Professor Lovegrove also presented the annual Nutrition Society Prize to Orla Woodward, University of Cambridge.

SCIENTIFIC PROGRAMMES

PARLIAMENTARY ACTIVITIES

New Low and Middle Income Countries (LMICs) collaboration.
The Society’s CEO and the President of IUNS, attended a meeting on 11 March in Pakistan to discuss the creation of a new Union of Nutrition and Dietetic Societies from LMICs. It was agreed in principle to take the work forward under the umbrella of the IUNS.

Chartered Institute of Water and Environmental Management (CIWEM).
The CEO of the Society met with the CEO of the Chartered Institute of Water and Environmental Management (CIWEM) on 18 March to review a proposal from the CIWEM members to jointly form a Special Interest Group (SIG) for developing greater synergy between environmental and nutrition management. Agreement was reached to make a proposal to the Society’s Trustees to approve the SIG.

Royal Society of Biology (RSB).
The RSB Strategic Partners Group (11 learned societies) met on 22 March and reviewed the response from the bio-sciences sector to the situation in Ukraine and the sanctions being imposed upon Russia, in particular in relation to scientific publishing. The Society’s Trustees are keeping the situation under continual review.

The project working group for the formation of an All Party Parliamentary Group for Nutrition and Health met on 17 March to review progress on recruiting members of Parliament to the Group. An enhanced recruitment plan was agreed and will be implemented in April 2022.

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutritionsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutritionsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutritionsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutritionsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutrinationsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutrinationsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutrinationsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutrinationsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutrinationsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutrinationsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutrinationsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutrinationsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutrinationsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutrinationsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutrinationsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.

Members who may be interested in becoming involved in any of the activities which support the work of the Society are invited to contact Mark Hollingsworth, the Society’s CEO, m.hollingsworth@nutrinationsociety.org

Programmes review.
The Society’s Honorary Programmes Officer, Professor Bernard Corfe, met with the programmes team in the Society’s offices on 24 March to agree the next stage of the implementation of the review of the Society’s scientific programmes.